

Report Salmon Shark Sightings

Division of Commercial Fisheries
Alaska Department of Fish and Game

Background

Salmon sharks are an important component of the Bering Sea and North Pacific Ocean ecosystems.

ADF&G wants to learn more about salmon shark's presence in Alaskan waters.

ADF&G is collecting salmon shark sightings from fishermen around the state to better understand their ecology.

If you incidentally catch a salmon shark, please contact:

Sabrina Garcia: 907-267-2180

or

Sabrina.Garcia@alaska.gov

Please provide:

- General location caught
- Date caught
- Sex (presence of claspers for males near the pelvic fin)
- Length (tip of snout to fork in tail)
