RC No. 118 (Referencing Proposal No. 3)

I am writing in reference to proposal No. 3.

I am a life-long resident of New Stuyahok, Alaska. In my village, adults and high school students go up to the Mulchatna River and its branches, the Stuyahok River and the Kaktuli River. When the high school students, especially, and adults go to these rivers for salmon, they use treble hooks with barbs, with and without bait. They bring the fish home to eat, and I know that they consider this as subsistence. I do not want to see them get a ticket.

Sincerely,

Peter Christopher, Sr.
