

From: SeafoodSource <info@seafoodsource.com>
Sent: Monday, July 27, 2020 8:57 AM
To: jdecker@afdf.org
Subject: [FREE WEBINAR] The New Executive Order on Seafood

Registration ends soon... Reserve your seat by registering today!

FREE WEBINAR

What the New Executive Order on Seafood Means for Expanding Sustainable U.S. Seafood Production

When: Wednesday, July 29 @ 2 pm EST

REGISTER NOW >>

On 7 May, U.S. President Donald Trump signed a new executive order promoting American seafood competitiveness and economic growth, propelling the United States forward as a seafood superpower. The executive order provides an exciting new opportunity to address long-term challenges to expanding the domestic seafood sector through more efficient and predictable aquaculture permitting, removing barriers to increased production within sustainable commercial fisheries, combating IUU fishing, and furthering fair and reciprocal trade in seafood products. Join NOAA Fisheries leadership for a broad discussion of what the executive order means for the domestic seafood industry.

Register now to reserve your seat >>

This email is being sent to SeafoodSource industry contacts and customers. To update your email preferences or unsubscribe, click here. If you prefer, you can also contact us by mail: Diversified Communications, P.O. Box 7437, Portland, ME 04112-7437.