J.

In the course of doing a permit review on some culverts in Seward I've found an apparent mistake in the FDD database. At least the data that is currently portrayed on the website. The stream number is 231-30-10080-2010-3022. It was nominated and cataloged in 1990 for coho rearing. Nomination number 90-379. However, the FDD web data lists coho spawning under the species string. I checked this against the recently updated maps and the maps are correct, noting coho rearing. Not sure how the error could occur, possibly was wrong in database and map label corrected but not the data within the database.
