OBSERVATION INFORMATION

Species	Date(s) Observed	Spawning	Rearing	Present	Anadromous
coho salmon	09/05/2014		✓

IMPORTANT: Provide all supporting documentation that this water body is important for the spawning, rearing or migration of anadromous fish, including: number of fish and life stages observed; sampling methods, sampling duration and area sampled; copies of field notes; etc. Attach a copy of a map showing location of mouth and observed upper extent of each species, as well as other information such as: specific stream reaches observed as spawning or rearing habitat; locations, types, and heights of any barriers; etc.

Comments:

One (1) juvenile coho salmon was captured by John Hudson in a baited minnow trap at waypoint 277 on the attached map on September 5, 2014. On the same date and stream, two (2) juvenile coho salmon (approximately 40 mm long) were captured by John Hudson in a baited minnow trap at waypoint 279 (58.43219,-135.64916) on the attached map.

Comments: On August 3, 1996 one baited minnow trap was set in a small tributary to Homestead Creek, immediately in front of a private residence currently owned by the Olney family. During 110 minute soak 16 coho salmon fry were captured. This appears to be the extent of anadromous fish habitat.
