IMPORTANT: Provide all supporting documentation that this water body is important for the spawning, rearing or migration of anadromous fish, including: number of fish and life stages observed; sampling methods, sampling duration and area sampled; copies of field notes; etc. Attach a copy of a map showing location of mouth and observed upper extent of each species, as well as other information such as: specific stream reaches observed as spawning or rearing habitat; locations, types, and heights of any barriers; etc.

Comments:

During a Forest Practices inspection, I used an electrofisher to sample an unnamed stream that flows into Lefthand Bay. The stream flows from a 30 acre lake. I captured and released about 75 juvenile steelhead trout between the lake and tidewater (Figures 1 and 2). The size of the fish were between 40 and 150 mm long. I observed one adult coho salmon and about 100 Pink Salmon carcasses. The stream is about 5 feet wide, less than 3 feet deep and 2% - 7% slope.

Add steelhead trout rearing present extend stream extend pink salmon present, remove hydroponomy note loc pt
