

Definitions

“Artificial Lure” — Any lure which is man-made and used to attract fish for the purpose of taking them, and includes artificial flies, but does not include salmon eggs or other chemically treated processed foods.

“Single Hook” — A fish hook with only one point, with or without a barb.

“Bag Limit” — The maximum legal take per person per day, in the area in which s/he is fishing, even though part or all of the fish are immediately preserved; a fish when landed and killed becomes a part of the bag limit of the person originally hooking it.

“Possession Limit” — The maximum number of unpreserved fish a person may have in possession.

“Preserved Fish” — Fish prepared in such a manner, and in an existing state of preservation, as to be fit for human consumption after a 15-day period, and does not include unfrozen fish temporarily stored in coolers that contain ice, dry ice, or fish that are lightly salted.
