

97. Chilkat Lake sockeye enhancement 115-32-10250-0010

This is a cooperative project by NSRAA, DIPAC, and ADF&G. Eggs are collected from adult sockeyes in Chilkat Lake and transported to Snettisham, where they are incubated; as the fry emerge in June of the following year, they are transported back to Chilkat Lake and released. The project was initiated in 1993. This program is expected to produce about 130,000 adult sockeyes annually to the common-property fisheries of Lynn Canal. There is no cost recovery associated with this project.
