Dear Mr. Calkins:

After talking to our pilots at Juneau, it was decided that Lower Dewey Lake is absolutely the lower limit of what a Grumman Goose can be set into without extreme reason.

At present I am preparing to go to Sashin Lake to get the trout for stocking Lower Dewey. I will wire you when I leave Little Port Walter with them -- in possibly 10 days or two weeks. They will have to be back-packed from the airport to the lake. I will have cans to carry them in but will need help getting them up the hill. Trust there are enough interested people that you can get hold of that are willing to help and will give us a hand getting the trout planted. I would hate to lose them at the airfield.

Sincerely yours,

Robert T. Baade
