Cabin Use at Turner
And Hasselborg Lakes

I checked out USFS cabin use dates from 1970-1978 in the Juneau area (20 facilities) and have the following analysis (also see attached) of visitor days at each lake:

	1970	1971	1972	1973	1974	1975	1976	1977	1978
Turner	964	1270	1283	1344	1580	1540	1688	1733	2100
Hasselborg	1224	2305	1750	1698	1840	1796	2048	1594	2050

Turner Lake (2 cabins):

Visitor use at Turner Lake has doubled since 1970, from 964 to 2100 visitor days each year. The total per cent use of Turner amongst those facilities in the Juneau area has remained fairly steady at about 15%.

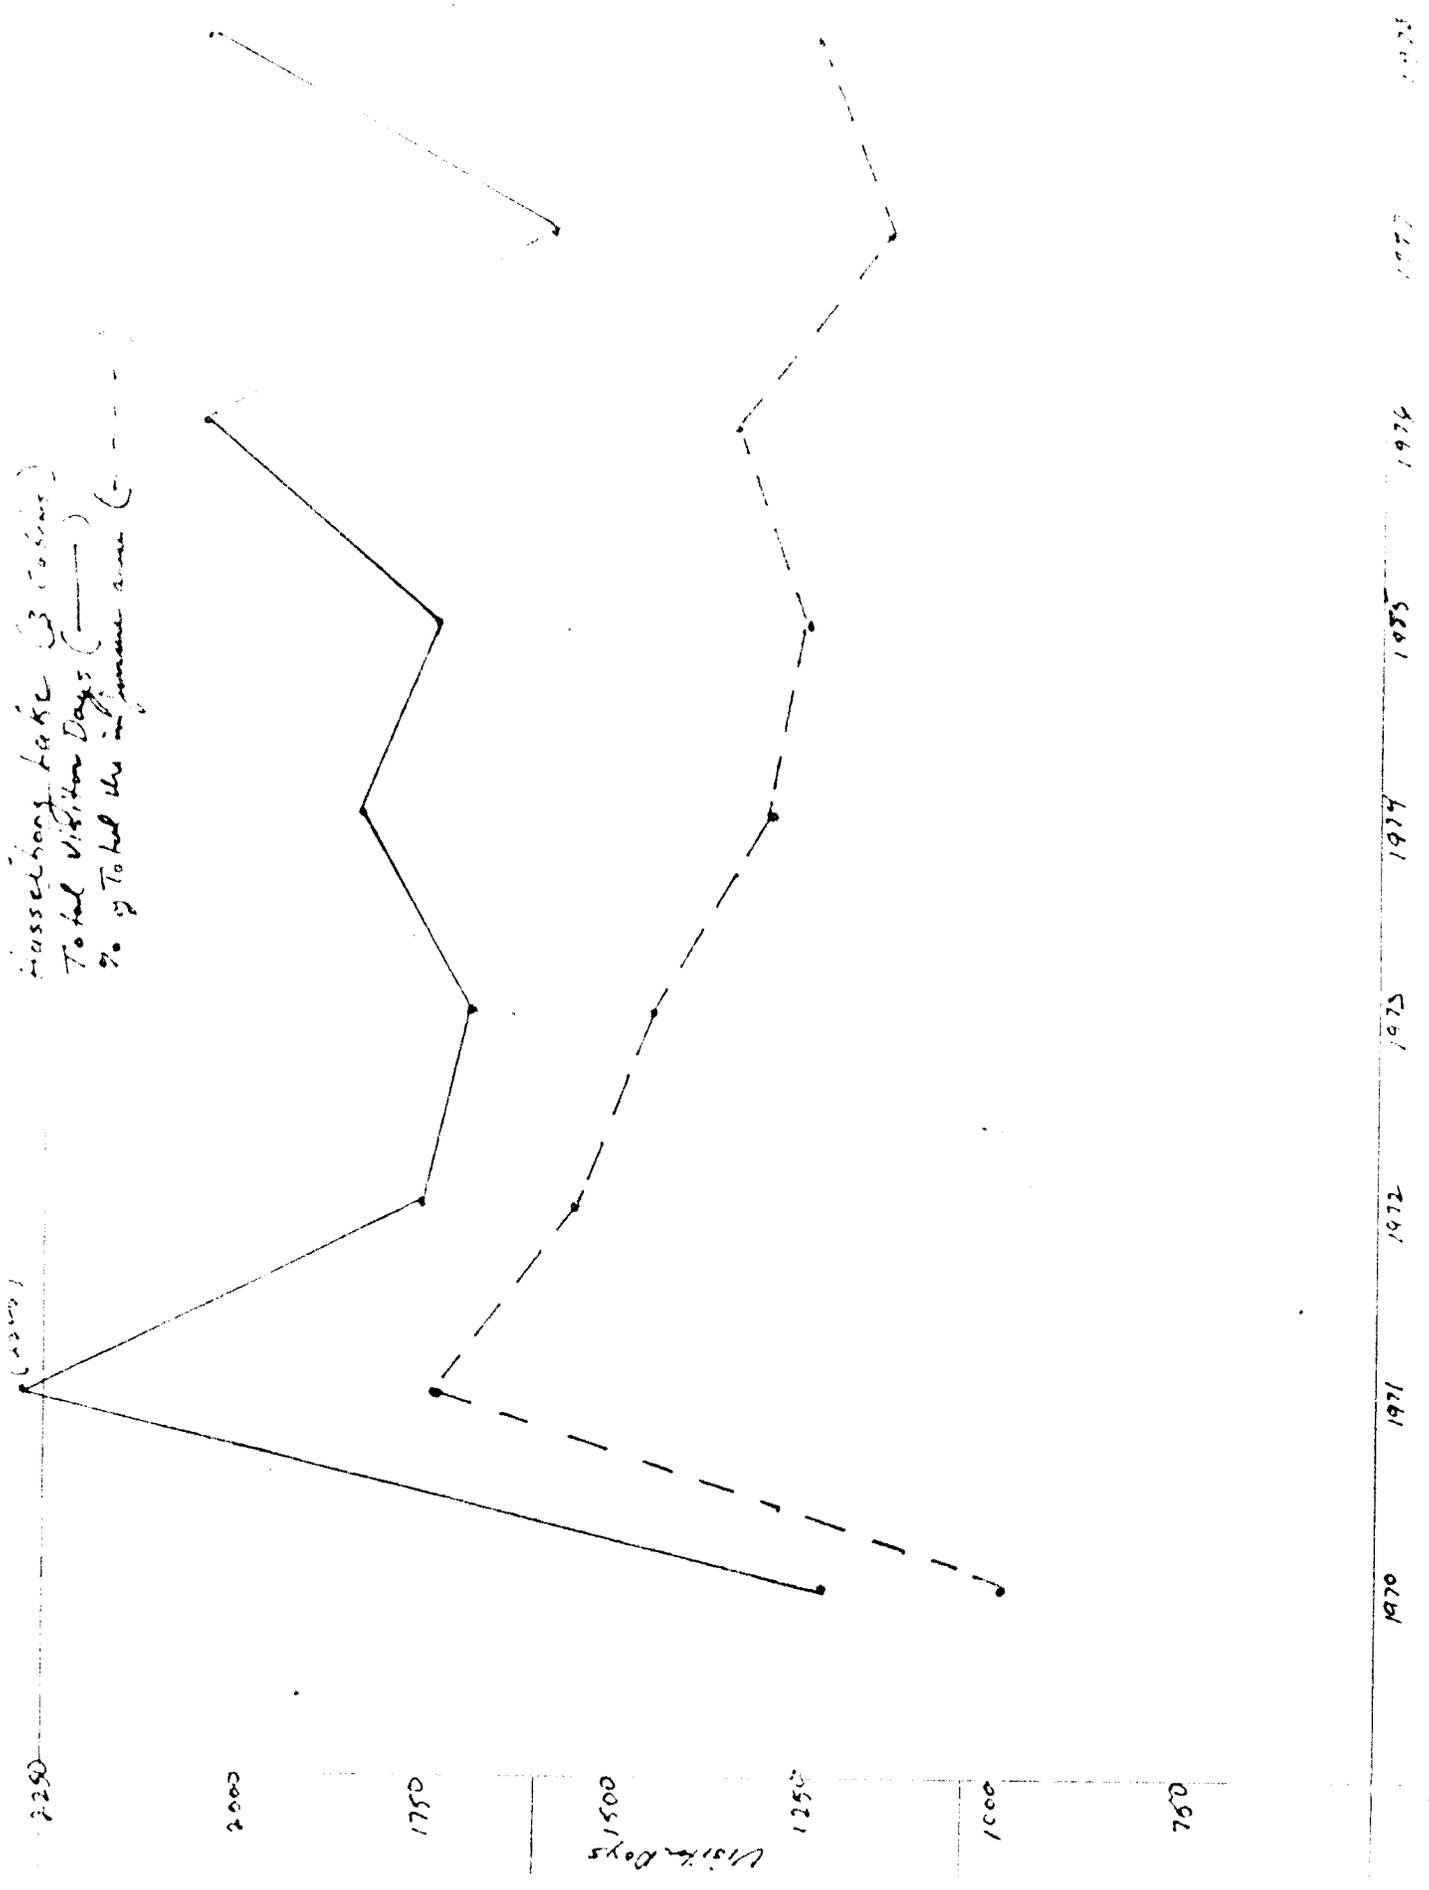

Hasselborg Lake (3 cabins):

Hasselborg Lake until recently was the most important recreational site in the Juneau area receiving as much as 25% of the total recreational cabin use (1971). Data indicates that use of the Hasselborg area is declining. Turner Lake recently exceeded Hasselborg in total visitor days and per cent use. This is probably an expression of rising air charter costs.

Turner and Hasselborg Lakes receive more use than any other facilities in the Juneau area, and together average 30% of the total use of 20 facilities. With the rising cost of fuel and air charter, and the increasing size of the Juneau population, it would be my guess that we will see increasing use of Turner. Also in discussion with USFS personnel, I found that Turner Lake in 1978 received more recreational use than any of the facilities in the Tongass.
