In combined gear areas, the first gillnet opening will be allowed after the first successful purse seine opening.

Test fishing in the combined Village Islands/Uganik Bay sections and the Danger Bay Section may begin as early as noon Wednesday April 15. These sections or portions of these sections will open by emergency order from an ADF&G management biologist on the grounds. Fishing periods and specific areas to be opened in the Village Islands/Uganik Bay sections will be determined inseason. Gear types will be allowed to fish on alternating days, with purse seine gear fished first, once good quality herring are found.

Emergency order fisheries in the Village Islands/Uganik Bay and Danger Bay sections will allow orderly fisheries on high quality herring. Fisheries will only open after test fishing detects fishable quantities of good quality herring (size and roe content). Fisheries may be short in duration (perhaps less than ten minutes for seine gear or as little as five hours for gillnet gear) and in limited areas within a section. ADF&G will be seeking volunteer fishing vessels to make test sets beginning on April 15. Cooperation from fishing vessels and industry technicians are needed to test herring quality in these sections.

EXPLORATORY AREAS
The following sections are designated as EXPLORATORY, and will be open to either gear type, with differential fishing periods by gear type as outlined above for purse seine or gillnet gear:

The remainder of the Kodiak Area will stay closed to commercial herring fishing for the entire sac roe season.

Beginning May 1, ADF&G may open any area with remaining herring GHLs to any gear group if the fishery is not likely to result in overharvest of the resource. All Kodiak commercial sac roe herring fishermen that wish to continue fishing after April 30 must be registered with the department. Registration may be accomplished either in the Kodiak fish and game office, or with fish and game personnel available in the field.

GHLs and maps of open sections and gear assignments are available at the Kodiak office, in the herring sac roe fishery harvest strategy for the 2015 season. Fishermen are urged to check with their market and test their catch prior to landing herring. Determining if size or roe quality meets processor standards is the responsibility of fishermen and industry. It is anticipated that many small and green fish will be present on the grounds during the initial open fishing periods. Recent fishery information may be obtained by calling the Department’s 24-hour record-a-phone at 486-4559.
