Meeting topics will include, but are not limited to, plans for the 2017 spring and summer troll fisheries, the 2017 Pacific Salmon Treaty Chinook salmon abundance index and quota, and a review of the 2016 troll season. Anyone with an interest in the troll fishery is welcome to attend.

Plans for wild Chinook salmon conservation restrictions in the 2017 spring fisheries were announced for specific areas in a March 6 News Release. Further details on those restrictions will also be a topic of discussion. Plans for spring areas not listed in the March 6 News Release are not yet finalized and will be announced in a separate news release. The 2017 Spring Troll Fishery Management Plan will be available prior to May 1.
