A Portion of Afognak Registration Elk Hunt RE755 Closes by Emergency Order

(Kodiak) – Elk hunters on Afognak Island this fall have taken advantage of mild weather and the island's extensive logging road system to reach harvest objectives in portions of the RE755 registration hunt area. Consequently, elk hunting in a portion of the RE755 registration hunt area will close by emergency order on Sunday, November 4, 2018, at 11:59 p.m. The closed portion of the hunt area includes areas south and west of a line from the head of Back Bay to Hatchery Peak to the head of Malina Bay (Southwest Afognak), and that portion of Afognak Island east and south of the main north-south logging road (1100 Road) from Danger Bay logging camp north to its terminus at Discoverer Bay, and the area south and west of a line from the head of Discoverer Bay to the head of Sapos Bay.

Afognak Island elk are managed using established harvest guidelines for individual herds and a 10 percent harvest objective for the overall elk population. As of November 1, hunters had reported taking 28 elk from a quota of 37 in that portion of the hunt area. With hunters still in the field, biologists anticipate the harvest quota will be reached prior to this closure taking effect; additional harvest would be excessive and could impede herd productivity and growth.

Registration hunts for elk of either sex remain open on portions of East Afognak (north and east of a line from the head of Discoverer Bay to the head of Sapos Bay), and the portion of the remainder hunt area as described including Kodiak, Ban, and Shuyak Islands. Elk hunting on Raspberry Island is restricted to hunters with drawing permits. Detailed maps are available at the Alaska Department of Fish and Game office in Kodiak.
