

SEASON CLOSED

CARIBOU

The 2020—2021 winter season is closed throughout the Mulchatna Caribou Herd Range.

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT
ALASKA DEPARTMENT OF FISH AND GAME

TOGIAK NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

DECLINING NUMBERS

Over the last 5 years, the Mulchatna Caribou Herd has dropped in size to 13,500, well below the minimum management objective of 30,000 set for subsistence hunts. This drop in the herd's size is concerning, causing biologists to close the season.

By closing the season, the Mulchatna Caribou Herd may increase and allow subsistence hunts soon, and for future generations to enjoy. Your support is critical to protecting Mulchatna Caribou for our children.

Conserve
today to hunt
tomorrow

Protecting the Mulchatna Caribou Herd now means a growing and harvestable population for tomorrow.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

- Stay informed.
- Share this information with friends and family.
- Report poaching to 1-800-478-3377 or 9070-310-0481.

For more information
ADF&G (907) 861-2105

