Location Information

Possible locations for the 2018/2019 meeting cycle are provided in Table 3 starting on page 8.

Work Session Considerations and Agenda Change Requests

Recent October work sessions managed well within the allotted two day time period. The number of agenda change requests (ACRs) drives meeting workload, but even in years with a relatively high number of requests, the two-day meeting sufficed. Figure 2 offers a look at ACR numbers since 1998. The average number of ACRs annually is 22. Over this same period, 28 percent of all ACRs, or 6 annually, have been accepted. In the last 5 years, the annual average number of ACRs received is 16. Of those 25% or 4 ACRs were accepted on average each year. This data suggests the annual number of ACRs received and taken up is declining slightly.

Proposed Days for Meetings

The following list offers the proposed and backup days for the 2018/2019 meeting schedule. Appendix 1 provides these dates in calendar view, as well as statistics on more recent meetings in these cycles and other meeting dates of interest.

(Proposal totals may vary from Table 1. Table 1 indicates the number of proposals the board planned to deliberate. Table 2 indicates how many they took final action on. The proposal categorization here is based on the regulation the proposal sought to change. It should not be interpreted as a characterization of whether the proposal was favorable or unfavorable to the use, or a user group.)

Board of Fisheries

Criteria for Consideration on Reviewing Meeting Locations

Identified March 20, 2009

From Jim Marcotte, Executive Director, memo to the Board of Fisheries, October 13, 2010 –

“In March 2009 the board decided it would identify the factors used when determining the location for holding future meetings. The board intended that no single items shall be the sole determining guideline but rather the preponderance of the items shall be considered significant in final selection of a meeting site.

1. Whether the community has commercial jet or turbine service.
2. Cellular phone service.
3. High speed internet available.
4. Adequate dining facilities/capacity for the Board of Fisheries, Fish and Game staff, and expected members of the public travelling from other communities.
5. Adequate meeting room facility and associated staff requirements (i.e.: copy machine, etc.).
6. Relative comfort (temperature inside, tables/chairs, etc.)
7. Adequate ground transportation
8. Adequate hotel rooms and capacity of rooms for expected influx.
9. Hospital.
10. Relationship of community to Board of Fisheries topic of discussion.
11. Cost to Department of Fish and Game.
12. Travel time required.
13. Economic and cultural importance to the location.
14. Economic impact on stakeholder travel.”
