

I am from the village of Emmonak. 20 years ago it was very challenging to get a moose on the lower Yukon. Now it's so easy to pick your size of moose now. In the past I used to moose hunt, but now a lot of hunters give my parents moose meat before I even get a chance to pull out my rifle! Since then I've seen huge antlers being sold to a guy that comes down the river to buy antlers, also antlers being sent out to a person in Fairbanks by the sled loads. I am in favor for non sales of cut off antlers because I've over heard that a young man from mountain village came across moose just below the village with just the antlers cut off. Makes me sick to my stomach. Please feel free to share my email to your colleagues and to public media. John A Crane Sent from my iPhone.
