Up Sides

- Extreme fat cows in February of 2022

A photograph showing a massive, dark brown cow lying on its side in a snowy field. A man wearing a blue winter jacket, dark pants, and a hat stands next to the cow, his hand resting on its back. The cow's body is exceptionally thick and rounded, indicating extreme fatness. The background is a bright, snowy landscape under a clear sky.

Wood Bison Planning Team Request

A group of approximately 18 people, including men and women of various ages, are posed for a group photo indoors. They are standing in two rows, with some people kneeling in the front. In the center of the group, a large, dark brown bison skin is laid out on a patterned red and gold carpet. A bison head with large, curved horns is also visible, held by one of the people in the front row. The background shows a room with whiteboards and posters on the wall.
